Requirements for [REDACTED] Tour to Czechoslovakia.

25X1A5a1

[REDACTED] 25X1A5a1

1. In view of the fact that prices in Czechoslovakia are higher than Western European prices when converted into crowns at the official rate of exchange, how does Czechoslovakia finance its exports? Does the exporting foreign trade monopoly get reimbursed from the budget for the price differential? Is there a special fund for this? Similarly can the importing foreign trade monopoly retain the profit resulting from price differentials? Are the same problems of price differentials involved in Czechoslovakia's trade with the Bloc?
2. Why has the Czech crown, when used for "non-commercial purposes" recently been appreciated in terms of the ruble?

SUBJECT: Requirements for [REDACTED] Tour to Czechoslovakia (Slovakia) in Regional Development

25X1A5a1

1. The [REDACTED] is about to issue invitations, on behalf of the Czechoslovakian Government, for a two-week study tour to Slovakia for the purpose of examining the progress made in regional development. The trip is to begin 9 September 1957.

2. No official invitation has reached the State Department as yet; however, State plans to send one or two US representatives. State has indicated that one US representative will probably be from the US Resident Delegation in Geneva and one may be from the US Embassy in Prague. No details on the itinerary are available.

3. You may submit requirements for the guidance of the US participants in this study tour. It is requested that these requirements be unclassified, if possible.

4. It is requested that your requirements be forwarded in a single copy to St/PR, Attention [REDACTED] by 20 August 1957.
